

GEP Listed As One of the SDCE 100s for the Sixth Time

Recognized for a supply chain project with significant impact on its client-firm

Clark, New Jersey
June 6, 2011

Leader in procurement transformation, GEP® (Global eProcure) is proud to announce its recognition as a part of the Supply and Demand Chain Executive (SDCE) 100, highlighting 100 Great Supply Chain Projects. It is the sixth year of recognition for GEP in SDCE's 100 list.

Neha Shah, Executive Vice President and Co-Founder said, "This recognition by SDCE is indeed an honor for GEP and reflects our commitment to excellence in procurement transformation."

This year, the criteria of evaluation were supply chain transformation projects with a significant impact on companies. Through an online submission process, the magazine collected information on supply chain transformation projects, including information on the objectives, scope, timeline and results of the project.

The submissions were evaluated by the magazine's editorial staff primarily on ambitiousness, creative application of technologies and solutions; the extent of the business results and clarity of submission. "These projects demonstrate the broad spectrum of opportunities for enabling excellence in the supply chain," said Andrew Reese, Editorial Director of SDCE.

About Supply & Demand Chain Executive

Supply & Demand Chain Executive is the executive's user manual for successful supply and demand chain transformation, utilizing hard-hitting analysis, viewpoints and unbiased case studies to steer executives and supply management professionals through the complicated, yet critical, world of supply and demand chain enablement to gain competitive advantage. On the Web at www.SDCEexec.com.

About GEP

GEP® (Global eProcure) is a leading procurement services firm dedicated to helping enterprises add value and reduce costs through procurement and supply chain transformation. With a comprehensive portfolio of services and solutions, GEP helps many of the world's largest organizations uncover savings opportunities, and deliver these savings to the bottom line. We have managed over $50 billion of spend on behalf of these clients, across industry sectors and geographies.

Our blended model combines management consulting, strategic sourcing support, implementation and outsourcing services with a full suite of best-in-class procurement tools and technology solutions. Our global footprint helps us to deliver these services wherever our clients need them. Headquartered in New Jersey, USA, we have offices in London (UK), Prague (Czech Republic), Mumbai & Hyderabad (India), Shanghai (China), Sao Paulo (Brazil) and Willoughby (Australia).

For More Information:

Alison B. Dahlman
Director of Marketing
732-382-6565 x 4753
alison.dahlman@gep.com