

GEP honored as Top Technology Consultant

Ranked in the Top 25 NJBIZ list for the third consecutive year

Clark, New Jersey

March 20, 2012

GEP (Global eProcure) a leading provider of procurement services and technology, has been named to the Top Technology Consultants List for New Jersey by NJBIZ for the third time.

“We are proud that GEP has been consistently ranked as a top technology consultant. As technology continues to transform the sourcing and procurement space, our technology answers our clients’ needs and presents them with a mechanism to efficiently carry out their procurement process from start to finish,” said Dhananjay Nagalkar, vice president of technology at GEP.

The annual list ranks IT consulting companies by total employees and consultants based in New Jersey. For more information or to obtain copies of the 2012 list, please visit www.njbiz.com.

Earlier this year, GEP acquired Enporion, a Florida-based supply chain solutions firm serving energy and utility clients with innovative approaches, helping them realize procurement savings. The acquisition has helped increase the procure-to-pay footprint of GEP in the energy and utilities sector.
