Procurement Strategy

A lot of consultants proclaim that they'll change your life. At GEP, we focus on results. We measure success by the actual, hard savings we deliver. GEP has the talent, category expertise, experience, and tools to help put innovative ideas in sourcing and procurement to work for you. We take the time to understand your organization and its culture, and adapt our strategies to your needs, not vice versa. As for changing your life ... we'll settle for helping improve the effectiveness of your procurement spend and saving you money.

Managed Services

Many companies that offer managed services focus solely on labor arbitrage. GEP leverages the creativity, education and brainpower of global talent pools in high-value labor markets across the globe. Working as a unit, GEP professionals have the capability to transform your procurement processes. We deploy expert teams in a number of flexible configurations, from end-to-end category management and procurement operations to a point solution. In every scenario, our transition teams are equipped with change management and integration tools to speed design and smooth implementation.

“ Procurement-focused provider that combines management consulting with BPO and software offerings, GEP is uniquely positioned to advise clients across their procurement asset platform ... with category and transformation expertise to help clients achieve specific organizational, supply management, and process efficiency objectives. ”

SOFTWARE

SMART by GEP® is a cloud-native, unified source-to-pay platform with comprehensive spend, sourcing and procurement functionality, including spend analysis, sourcing, contract management, supplier management, procure-to-pay, savings project management and category management.

SMART by GEP leverages the power and scalability of the cloud to offer a single, unified solution that includes all the functions an enterprise needs for total procurement management — configured to your specific business needs. No need for separate stand-alone modules to manage your upstream and downstream procurement functions. SMART by GEP works seamlessly with all major ERP, and finance and accounting systems, so you can leverage your existing investments and infrastructure.

Simple to use but comprehensive in capability, SMART by GEP enables fluid information, process and work flow, allowing you to drive significant savings and performance with little or no training required. Its user-centric design and intelligent, intuitive interface help you boost user adoption and drive compliance across all your procurement operations.

SMART by GEP®

UNIFIED SOURCE-TO-PAY PLATFORM

“GEP has built an aesthetically pleasing, fluid to navigate and, most importantly, powerhouse full procurement suite that can be implemented into a large enterprise with relative ease as it is a device-agnostic cloud solution.”

– Next Level Purchasing Association

“The combination of the individual components within SMART by GEP, the broader platform capabilities on both a collective and holistic basis, as well as the consulting, market intelligence, managed services and BPO capability that GEP delivers, makes the solution set stand out in the market.”
